Japanese University Students visit Governor

Dr. Takano Takako, Professor at the Department of Centre for International Studies along with 6 other students from Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan who are on a cross-cultural study tour to Nagaland has on the invitation of the Governor P.B. Acharya, came to Raj Bhavan on 26.8.2016.

The Governor has apprised upon them and Mr. Amba Jamir, founder and Executive Secretary, Sustainable Development Forum Nagaland (SDFN) of the need to tie up not only with NGOs but also with our Universities in Nagaland. Individual organisation might have wonderful interest and motive but might not reach the ordinary man but if our activities are tied up with the Universities or with good colleges it will have a much bigger impact with our youths and on the system of education.

Hon. Governor said that the present system in the Universities are not job oriented. The students after their studies do not connect either with society nor industry. So there is a need to interact with the students and universities to share views and also that there should be a dialogue between trade, commerce, industry and education along with the resources available in the state to make the universities employable university.
